

Sales Applications on BlackBerry

With Vaultus, firms can run their Sales Applications on BlackBerry, giving reps and managers wireless access to pertinent information, even when away from wireless coverage. With Vaultus, firms can run any packaged or home-grown sales application on BlackBerry handhelds, including Siebel, SalesLogix, Onyx, PeopleSoft, SAP and Oracle.

The Vaultus solution boosts sales rep productivity and effectiveness, increases speed and improves team communication. Reps can view company or contact data, update forecasts, enter activities and update work notes. And for incoming calls, Vaultus automatically displays the caller's profile and history of all prior interactions.

- No wireless connection is required as applications and all the data reside on the BlackBerry handheld.
- Provides tremendous data storage as sales reps can store 50,000 records on the BlackBerry handheld.
- Reps can email or call a contact from within the sales application and emails and calls are automatically stored as history records.
